Biblical Scholarship, Science and Politics in Early Modern England Kevin Killeen,2016-12-05 Kevin Killeen addresses one of the most enigmatic of seventeenth century writers Thomas Browne 1605 1682 whose voracious intellectual pursuits provide an unparalleled insight into how early modern scholarly culture understood the relations between its disciplines Browne s work encompasses biblical commentary historiography natural history classical philology artistic propriety and an encyclopaedic coverage of natural philosophy This book traces the intellectual climate in which such disparate interests could cohere locating Browne within the cultural and political matrices of his time While Browne is most frequently remembered for the magnificence of his prose and his temperamental poise qualities that knit well with the picture of a detached apolitical figure this work argues that Browne s significance emerges most fully in the context of contemporary battles over interpretative authority within the intricately linked fields of biblical exegesis scientific thought and politics Killeen s work centres on a reassessment of the scope and importance of Browne s most elaborate text Pseudodoxia Epidemica his vast encyclopaedia of error with its mazy series of investigations and through this explores the multivalent nature of early modern enquiry A catalogue of new and second-hand books Robert Snare,1829 Why Bother with History? Beverley C. Southgate,2013-11-04 Why Bother With History argues for an increasingly important role for a revitalised historical study Examining the motivations of past historians the author rejects the ancient aspiration to a history for its own sake and argues that historians importance lies in their own adoption of a moral standpoint from which a story of the past can be told that facilitates the attainment of a future we desire Inevitably controversial in that it challenges many of the assumptions of modernist history this is an interdisciplinary book which draws in particular on psychology and literature New illustrations of the life, studies, and writings of Shakespeare Joseph Hunter,1845 A Catalogue of the Libraries of Edward Webbe ... Alexander Davie ... Francis Carrington ...
