

A photograph of two young women running away from the camera on a dirt path. They are both wearing jeans and have their hair flying, suggesting movement. The woman on the left is wearing a yellow long-sleeved shirt and red sneakers. The woman on the right is wearing a black long-sleeved shirt and dark sneakers. The background shows a sunset or sunrise over a field of dry grass and distant hills.

"A sister is not just a sibling; she is a piece of your heart walking outside your body."

Human Thought and Social Organization Murray J. Leaf, Dwight Read, 2012-06-07 Human beings have two outstanding characteristics compared to all other species the apparently enormous elaboration of our thought through language and symbolism and the elaboration of our forms of social organization The view taken in Human Thought and Social Organization Anthropology on a New Plane is that these are intimately interconnected To understand this connection the book compares the structure of the systems of thought that organizations are built upon with the organizational basis of human thinking as such An experimental method is used leading to a new science of the structure of human social organizations in two senses First it gives rise to a new kind of ethnology that has the combination of empirical solidity and formal analytical rigor associated with the paradigmatic sciences Second it makes evident that social organizations have distinctive properties and require distinctive explanations of a sort that cannot be reduced to the explanations drawn from or grounded in these other sciences Human social organizations are created by people using systems of ideas with very specific logical properties This book describes what these idea systems are with an unbroken chain of analysis that begins with field elicitation and continues by working out their most fundamental logico mathematical generative elements This enables us to see precisely how these idea systems are used to generate organizations that give pattern to ongoing behavior The book shows how organizations are objectified by community members through symbolic representations that provide them with shared conceptions of organizations roles or relations that they see each other as participating in The case for this constructive process being pan Homo sapiens is described spanning all human communities from the Upper Paleolithic to today and from the most seemingly primitive Australian tribes to modern day America and India While focusing primarily on kinship Human Thought and Social Organization shows how the analysis applies with equal precision to other social areas ranging from farming to political factionalism

Sister Republics David G. Haglund, 2023-03 David G Haglund s Sister Republics tells the story of the unique relationship between the United States and its first ally France Historians and political scientists have characterized interactions between the two countries in the spheres of security and defense policy in radically different ways either the two comport themselves in a highly cooperative fashion befitting their status as old allies and steadfast friends or they act as bitter rivals revealing their alliance to be at best dysfunctional and at worst destructive Haglund uses a fresh approach to reconcile these divergent positions examining the Franco American bond through the prism of strategic culture In doing so he reveals the cultural factors that have contributed to the suboptimal relationship between the two nations

Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico, 1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women s studies Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors      Technologies of Procreation Jeanette Edwards, Sarah Franklin, Eric Hirsch, Frances Price, Marilyn Strathern, 2005-08-18 Technologies of Procreation bridges the gap between medical technology and cultural values It looks at the ways in which the technologies of procreation affect society from an anthropological perspective      The Ethics of Relationships, 2025-09-04 Relationships are of utmost importance to our lives in that they give rise to various kinds of goods Yet they also make us vulnerable to distinct kinds of wrongs and harms So far philosophers have given some attention to the topics of friendship parent child relationships and love but many other kinds of relationships have been neglected Moreover philosophical theorizing has mostly focused on the value of relationships while the wrongs and harms involved in leading a particular relationship have hardly been investigated Similarly relationships have been analyzed as rather static phenomena but once we realize that they wax and wane and can even come to an end further moral challenges come into view This edited volume makes a major contribution to establishing an ethics of relationships through its analysis of many different kinds of relationships The chapters in this collection offer an in depth understanding of the distinct nature and value of relationships while also highlighting the dark sides of relationships and their distinct moral intricacies Contributions cover the relationship to self sibling relationships friendships and romantic partnerships including relationships between former partners More socially mediated connections are also discussed such as neighbours colleagues students and teachers as well as fans and celebrities In addition negative relationships like those between enemies and those between victims and perpetrators are explored in detail The final chapters examine relationships with non human entities including companion animals and AI systems Through its wide ranging coverage and insightful analysis The Ethics of Relationships significantly broadens the scope of discussion and elucidates the normative significance of relationships      Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1991 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873      Counselling Students Ravi Rana, 2000-05-24 Counselling Students A Psychodynamic Perspective delivers an introduction to the main psychological and developmental factors that affect students and how these typically influence and shape their experiences at university Using a psychodynamic model it provides a clear account rich in illustrations of the various emotional and developmental issues that underlie the problems that students encounter and the role of counselling in dealing with these problems The book will be particularly helpful to individuals with a personal or professional interest in student welfare who wish to gain a deeper understanding of the psychological issues that affect the development and well being of students      Anglo-American Relations Since 1939 John Baylis, 1997-03-15 The documents also reveal the way the concept of the special relationship was used as a tool of diplomacy on both sides of the Atlantic

North American Indian Anthropology Raymond J. DeMallie, Alfonso Ortiz, 1994 These essays explore the blending of structural and historical approaches to American Indian anthropology that characterizes the perspective developed by the late Fred Eggan and his students at the University of Chicago They include studies of kinship and social organization politics religion law ethnicity and art Many reflect Eggan s method of controlled comparison a tool for reconstructing social and cultural change over time Together these essays make substantial descriptive contributions to American Indian anthropology presenting contemporary interpretations of diverse groups from the Hudson Bay Inuit in the north to the Highland Maya of Chiapas in the south The collection will serve as an introduction to Native American social and cultural anthropology for readers interested in the dynamics of Indian social life      Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara

Cooper, 2021-11-02 The idea of brotherhood has been an important philosophical concept for understanding community equality and justice In Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara Cooper offers a gendered reading that challenges the key figures of the all male fraternity of twentieth century Jewish philosophy to open up to the feminine Cooper offers a feminist lens which when applied to thinkers such as Franz Rosenzweig and Emmanuel Levinas reveals new ways of illuminating questions of relational ethics embodiment politics and positionality She shows that patriarchal kinship as models of erotic love brotherhood and paternity are not accidental in Jewish philosophy but serve as norms that have excluded women and non normative individuals Gendering Modern Jewish Thought suggests these fraternal models do real damage and must be brought to account in more broadly humanistic frameworks For Cooper a more responsible and ethical reading of Jewish philosophy comes forward when it is opened to the voices of mothers sisters and daughters      Almost 18 Paula Osipovitch, 2012-04-01 My daughter Trisha left this world due to a reckless driver just one month short of her eighteenth birthday Confusion rage anger and denial became my new world I felt alone as if I were free falling for years But my words are a sanctuary My desire is to bring awareness to other parents who have lost children My message is to convey to bereaved parents that they are not alone on this journey and their feelings are not only acceptable but also normal I hope to provide a forum in which those who suffer as I have can compare their feelings along with mine can share in the same emotions I have as we try to learn the best way to continue moving along in a world that for us can never be the same I have had many obstacles interfere with the grieving process as I share my story pain and anguish as therapy and solace to others

Inalienable Possessions Annette B.
