

The background of the book cover is a detailed illustration of a space scene. At the top, a large, complex space station or lunar base is shown in orbit. Below it, a smaller lunar lander or rover is positioned on the surface of the moon. A bright green laser beam originates from the lander and points towards the station. In the foreground, several tentacles of an alien creature are visible, reaching up from the lunar surface. The sky is filled with stars and a colorful nebula in shades of purple, blue, and orange.
