Space Policy in the Twenty-First Century W. Henry Lambright, 2003 Though more than forty years old the space age has just begun and questions about its future abound What will replace the Space Shuttle Will the International Space Station justify its 100 billion potential cost Are asteroids real threats to Earth or just the subject of science fiction movies Will humans land on Mars Will the search for extraterrestrial life be rewarded In Space Policy in the Twenty First Century W Henry Lambright brings together ten top ranking observers of United States space exploration to address these and other issues relating to the future of the space program While the U S no longer competes with the Soviets for technological firsts they argue ideology and national image remain at the core of space policy with other factors playing subordinate roles Reminding readers of the historical highlights the authors pose searching questions about the priorities and applications of space science manned vs

unmanned flights and commercial access to the space enterprise Contributors include Christopher F Chyba SETI Institute and Stanford University Ronald J Deibert University of Toronto Daniel H Deudney the Johns Hopkins University W Henry Lambright Syracuse University Roger D Launius NASA Karl A Leib Syracuse University John M Logsdon George Washington University Howard E McCurdy American University Scott N Pace White House Office of Science and Technology Policy and Debora L VanNijnatten Wilfrid Laurier University

Toward a Theory of Spacepower Charles D. Lutes, 2011-03-07 This volume is a product of the efforts of the Institute for National Strategic Studies Spacepower Theory Project Team which was tasked by the Department of Defense to create a theoretical framework for examining spacepower and its relationship to the achievement of national objectives The team was charged with considering the space domain in a broad and holistic way incorporating a wide range of perspectives from U S and international space actors engaged in scientific commercial intelligence and military enterprises This collection of papers commissioned by the team serves as a starting point for continued discourse on ways to extend modify refine and integrate a broad range of viewpoints about human initiated space activity its relationship to our globalized society and its economic political and security interactions It will equip practitioners scholars students and citizens with the historical background and conceptual framework to navigate through and assess the challenges and opportunities of an increasingly complex space environment

The Power of the Space Club Deganit Paikowsky, 2017-07-20 Why do nation states choose to develop national space programs How can they justify national efforts to acquire capabilities by arguing for membership of the space club This book provides a unique perspective of the past current and future of space exploration and technological development in world politics A country that sees itself as a power deserving of a seat at the table of world governance is expected to race for space Based on a rich and detailed analysis of a range of space programs of states which are not usually at the focus of world politics and its research the author shows that joining the space club is a legitimate and rational decision The book provides a different way of looking at international relations through a relatively under studied area of policy the space club

Routledge Handbook of Space Policy Thomas Hoerber, Mariel Borowitz, Antonella Forganni, Bruno Reynaud de Sousa, 2024-12-30 This volume offers a comprehensive overview of the field of space policy Space is a technology driven domain and policy development has accelerated in recent years at a time when the space economy has begun to show remarkable potential Thus this handbook gathers experts from different fields with the aim of 1 offering an overview of the state of play regarding space policy issues and 2 expanding knowledge about possible future developments Given the cross disciplinary nature of the subject and its vast scope the authors contributions are grouped within different thematic sections as follows Theoretical structures for an understanding of space policies The history of space Society justice and the human impact Governance of space Popularisation of space New frontiers in space and expansion into the unknown World space policies by geographic areas The introduction and the conclusion chapters provide a coherent connection between the contributions with each section presenting transversal
