Glenn, Ester J. De Jong, 1996-08-01 This study is concerned with the ways in which a dozen knowledge-based societies of Western Europe and the English-speaking world respond to unprecedented cultural and linguistic diversity resulting from the flow of immigrants and refugees since World War II It asks how public policy has sought to use schooling to minimize the potentially divisive and inequitable effects of this diversity and to provide opportunities to the children of immigrants It asks also how the nature of each of these societies affects the meaning of integration into each of them Latinos in New York Sherrie Baver, Angelo Falcón, Gabriel Haslip-Viera, 2017-06-23 Significant changes in New York City's Latino community have occurred since the first edition of Latinos in New York Communities in Transition was published in 1996 The Latino population in metropolitan New York has increased from 1.7 million in the 1990s to over 2.4 million constituting a third of the population spread over five boroughs Puerto Ricans remain the largest subgroup followed by Dominicans and Mexicans however Puerto Ricans are no longer the majority of New York's Latinos as they were throughout most of the twentieth century Latinos in New York Communities in Transition second edition is the most comprehensive reader available on the experience of New York City's diverse Latino population The essays in Part I examine the historical and sociocultural context
