rotting and neglected cabin Long before she was created the familial foundation was unstable the ground had not been properly prepared for such a structure She had no one to fend off the invaders who came into her life to destroy what little identity she had managed to build She had no one to help her grow into the woman that she should have been No one was there to nurture her so she could reach her potential What was the Carpenter going to do with this decaying mess A

Ceschin, 2012

Billy Sparrow was a little bird who lived in a small town He had a brother called Horatio and a little sister called Heloise The three little sparrows were only a few weeks old They lived in a corner of the roof of an old wooden house located right in the middle of the main city square Their little town was a beautiful place happy and clean There were many trees in the city square Oak trees aspen trees maple trees and birch trees With so many trees right in front of their home mom and dad sparrow didn't have to fly too far out in search of food for their three little birds Billy and his brother and his sister were too young to catch the insects they needed to eat They couldn't fly at all and mom and dad had to come and go from tree to tree all day long to bring them their food The three little sparrows had no feathers But this was good because it was summer and their house was very hot day and night Sleeping was one of their favorite activities and they slept till late every day When they woke up mom and dad had already gone out to catch their breakfast Billy was the most active of the three little sparrows Right after getting out of bed he would sit by the front porch of his little house and stay there for hours looking at mom and dad flying from tree to tree catching insects for their children He also loved to look at the other birds that flew around the square Billy considered flight as the most wonderful thing in the world He couldn't wait for the time when he would start his training But it was too dangerous for a little bird with no feathers to sit like that for hours at the edge of the roof of a tall house It was especially dangerous because of Lucifer the big black cat that lived across the square from his house Lucifer was mean and extremely fast If Billy weren't careful he could fall to the ground and become cat food in a matter of seconds Father Sparrow kept warning him about that Billy he would say You have to learn to stay inside Move away from there right now and go sit in the living room with your brother and sister But dad Billy would always say If I sit in the living room I won't be able to see you flying out there Patiently Mr Sparrow always tried to change his son's mind I know son But if you fall you are going to hurt yourself and cry all day long There was no use Billy couldn't resist and would come out to the porch and sit at the edge of the roof right after breakfast He couldn't wait for the day when he too would take the leap into thin air and fly like a bird

Biology of the Ubiquitous House Sparrow Ted R. Anderson, 2006-08-10 After the chicken the House Sparrow is the most widely distributed bird species in the world occurring on all continents except Antarctica and on most human inhabited islands Although its Latin name is Passer domesticus it is certainly not domesticated In fact it is widely regarded as a pest species and is consequently not protected in most of its extensive range This combination of ubiquity and minimal legal protection has contributed to its wide use in studies by avian biologists throughout the world The purpose of this book is to review and summarize the results of these global studies on House Sparrows and to provide a springboard for future studies on the species House Sparrows have been used to study natural selection in introduced species circadian rhythms and the neuroendocrine control of the avian annual cycle One current question of considerable interest concerns the catastrophic House Sparrow population declines in several urban centers in Europe Is the House Sparrow a contemporary canary in the mine Other topics of broad interest include the reproductive and flock foraging strategies of sparrows and sexual selection and the function of the male badge in the species Anderson also explores the role of the House Sparrow in disease transmission to humans and their domesticated animals
