Spatial Schemas And Abstract Thought:

Spatial Schemas and Abstract Thought Merideth Gattis,2003 Proposes the means by which spatial structures might be adapted for nonspatial purposes and it considers alternatives to spatial coding as a basis for abstract thought

Developmental Perspectives on Embodiment and Consciousness Willis Overton,Ulrich Mueller,Judith Newman,2007-09-19 Until recently the body has been largely ignored in theories and empirical research in psychology particularly in developmental psychology Recently however several conceptions of the relation between body and mind have been developed Common among these conceptions is the idea that the body plays an important role in our emotional social and

Law, Culture and Visual Studies Anne Wagner,Richard K. Sherwin,2013-07-11 The proposed volumes are aimed at a multidisciplinary audience and seek to fill the gap between law semiotics and visuality providing a comprehensive theoretical and analytical overview of legal visual semiotics They seek to promote an interdisciplinary debate from law semiotics and visuality bringing together the cumulative research traditions of these related areas as a prelude to identifying fertile avenues for research going forward Advance Praise for Law Culture and Visual Studies This diverse and exhilarating collection of essays explores the many facets both historical and contemporary of visual culture in the law It opens a window onto the substantive jurisdictional disciplinary and methodological diversity of current research It is a cornucopia of materials that will enliven legal studies for those new to the field as well as for established scholars It is a must read that will leave you wondering about the validity of the long held obsession that reduces the law and legal studies to little more than a preoccupation with the word Leslie J Moran Professor of Law Birkbeck College

University of London Law Culture Visual Studies is a treasure trove of insights on the entwined roles of legality and visuality. From multiple interdisciplinary perspectives by scholars from around the world, these pieces reflect the fullness and complexities of our visual encounters with law and culture. From pictures to places to postage stamps from forensics to film to folklore, this anthology is an exciting journey through the fertile field of law and visual culture as well as a testament that the field has come of age. Naomi Mezey, Professor of Law, Georgetown University Law Center, Washington D C USA. This highly interdisciplinary reference work brings together diverse fields including cultural studies, communication theory, rhetoric, law, and film studies, legal and social history, visual and legal theory, in order to document the various historical, cultural, representational, and theoretical links that bind together law and the visual. This book offers a breath-taking range of resources from both well-established and newer scholars who together cover the field of law's representation in interrogation of and dialogue with forms of visual rhetoric, practice, and discourse. Taken together, this scholarship presents state-of-the-art research into an important and developing dimension of contemporary legal and cultural inquiry. Above all, Law Culture and Visual Studies lays the groundwork for rethinking the nature of law in our densely visual culture. How are legal meanings produced, encoded, distributed, and decoded? What critical and hermeneutic skills, new or old, familiar or unfamiliar, will be needed? Topical, diverse, and enlivening, Law Culture and Visual Studies is a vital research tool and an urgent invitation to further critical thinking in the areas so well laid out in this collection. Desmond Manderson, Future Fellow, ANU College of Law, Research School of Humanities, the Arts, Australian National University, Australia.

Advances in Frame Semantics Mirjam Fried, Kiki Nikiforidou, 2013-12-15. This volume presents some of the latest research in Frame Semantics, including work in computational lexicography as developed within the FrameNet project. Using varied material from English, Italian, and Japanese, the contributions collectively expand the theoretical, conceptual, and computational apparatus of Frame semantics by studying a range of issues concerning not only lexical structure associated with cognitive frames but also the less-studied interactional frames and their relationship to grammatical organization. While addressing a number of linguistic phenomena such as verbs of visual perception, metaphoric language, subordinating connectives, paraphrasing, honorifics, certain pragmatic particles, basic speech acts, and the semantic structuring of legal texts, the analyses also highlight the broader question of integrating frames within rich lexical and grammatical descriptions, whether in the context of lexicon building, resources models for knowledge representation, experimental modeling of language acquisition, and processing conceptual metaphor theory, paraphrase research, or the communicative grounding of linguistic structure. Originally published in Constructions and Frames, Vol 3, 1, 2011, and Vol 2, 2, 2010.
