Suffering, Politics, Power Cynthia Halpern, 2002-01-03 Suffering and politics in the thought of Luther Hobbes Rousseau and Nietzsche Liberating the Politics of Jesus Darryl W. Stephens, Elizabeth Soto Albrecht, 2020-09-03 Bold faithful challenging this volume uncovers the social and political implications of the gospel message by looking at Anabaptist theology and practice from a female perspective The contributors approach the gospel from a wide range of disciplines and backgrounds liberating the radical political ethic of Jesus Christ from patriarchal distortions and demonstrating that gender justice and peace theology are inseparable Beautifully illustrated with pen drawings Liberating the Politics of Jesus recognizes the authority of women to interpret and reconstruct the peace church tradition on issues such as subordination suffering atonement the nature of church leadership and discipleship The contributors confront difficult topics head on such as the power structures in South Africa armed conflict in Colombia and the sexual violence of John Howard Yoder The result is a renewed Anabaptist peace theology with the potential to transform the work of theology and ministry in all Christian traditions

Suffering, Politics, Power Cynthia Halpern, 2002-01-03 Suffering Politics Power argues that human suffering on a global scale constitutes the most urgent and least understood question of contemporary politics and political theory In the modern age the experience of suffering is primarily a political problem constructed out of crucial conflicting perspectives The book draws on a genealogy of suffering through the conflicting perspectives of four major political theorists Martin Luther Thomas Hobbes Jean Jacques Rousseau and Friedrich Nietzsche Although supplying contradictory accounts of the nature of suffering and human response to it these theorists when examined together provide a historical foundation for the political structures of our time and a trajectory for the problematic of suffering which defies all limits This book works to foster a contemporary political response to suffering addressing the techniques of its production and representation and the dilemmas of ascertaining causes and responsibilities

The Church in the Public Ilse Ahn, 2022 The Church in the Public shows how church state dualism has corrupted the church's social witness and allowed neoliberal and neocolonial ideas to assert control of public and political life Ahn argues for a public church one that collaborates and cooperates with other public actors and entities in the promotion of a just social order

Figures in the Carpet Wilfred M. McClay, 2007-01-02 Figures in the Carpet presents a stellar roster of first rate historians dealing seriously with a perennially important subject The case studies and more theoretical accounts in this book amount to an unusually perceptive assessment of how the person has been viewed in American history

Human Trafficking Marie Segrave, 2016-12-05 Human trafficking captured the attention of the global community well over a decade ago inspiring multifarious international national regional and local responses While formally recognized as one of the major threats associated with transnational organized crime human trafficking remains an issue about which much has been written and yet little is known or supported by empirical evidence The essays selected for this volume reflect four key areas of debate the transnational organized crime framework the data and research landscape the implementation of anti trafficking responses and the articulation of alternative responses to human trafficking These essays are written by well known and more recent contributors to this field of research The collection draws attention to contemporary arguments as well as recent empirical research and points to the importance of contextualizing human trafficking within both the global and local setting This volume reflects where human trafficking data research and debate is currently located and where it is heading and as such is of interest to academics students policymakers and practitioners

Handbook of the Philosophy of Medicine Thomas Schramme, Mary Jean Walker, 2025-09-30 This is the second edition of Springer's first wide ranging multi authored handbook on philosophy of medicine It covers the underlying conceptual issues of many important social political and ethical issues in health care and as such provides a single source of information for this far ranging and still developing field This new edition of this authoritative handbook includes topics that have gained momentum in the last couple of years This second edition introduces and develops nearly one hundred topics concepts and issues in the field It is written by distinguished specialists from multiple disciplines including philosophy health sciences nursing sociology political theory and medicine Many complicated social and ethical issues in health care are based on conceptual problems most prominently on the definitions of health and disease or on epistemological issues regarding causality or diagnosis Philosophy is the discipline that deals with such conceptual metaphysical epistemological methodological and axiological matters This handbook covers all the central concepts in medicine such as ageing death disease mental disorder and well being It is an invaluable resource for health care specialists who want to be informed and stay up to date with the relevant discussions as well as philosophers and ethicists with an interest in medicine and members of the general public with an interest in health care and related issues The text also advances these debates and sets the agenda for years to come

Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture Freya Sierhuis, 2016-05-13 Bringing together scholars from literature and the history of ideas Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture explores new ways of negotiating the boundaries between cognitive and bodily models of emotion and between different versions of the will as active or passive In the process it juxtaposes the historical formation of such ideas with contemporary philosophical debates It frames a dialogue between rhetoric and medicine politics and religion in order to examine the relationship between mind and body and between experience and the senses Some chapters discuss literature in studies of Shakespeare Donne and Milton other essays concentrate on philosophical arguments both Aristotelian and Galenic models from antiquity and new mechanistic formations in Descartes Hobbes and Spinoza A powerful sense of paradox emerges in treatments of the passions in the early modern period also reflected in new literary and philosophical forms in which inwardness was displayed analysed and studied the autobiography the essay the soliloquy genres which rewrite the formation of subjectivity At the same time the frame of reference moves outwards from the world of interior states to encounter the passions on a public stage thus reconnecting literary study with the history of political thought In between the abstract theory of political ideas and the inward selves of literary history lies a field of intersections waiting to be explored The passions like human nature itself are infinitely variable and provoke both literary experimentation and philosophical imagination Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture thus makes new connections between embodiment selfhood and the emotions in order to suggest both new models of the self and new models for interdisciplinary history Routledge International Handbook of Contemporary Social and Political Theory Gerard Delanty, Stephen P. Turner, 2011-03-23 The Handbook will address a range of issues that have emerged out of recent social and political theory It will focus on key themes as opposed to schools of thought or major theorists Each chapter is an emerging cutting edge topic that is of interest both to social theory and to political theory Most topics will have a clear and substantive focus on social or political problems Levinas, Adorno, and the Ethics of the Material Other Eric S. Nelson, 2020-12-01 This book sets up a dialogue between Emmanuel Levinas and Theodor W Adorno using their thought to address contemporary environmental and social political situations Eric S Nelson explores the non identity thinking of Adorno and the ethics of the Other of Levinas with regard to three areas of concern the ethical position of nature and inhuman material others such as environments and animals the bonds and tensions between ethics and religion and the formation of the self through the dynamic of violence and liberation expressed in religious discourses and the problematic uses and limitations of liberal and republican discourses of equality liberty tolerance and their presupposition of the private individual self and autonomous subject Thinking with and beyond Levinas and Adorno this work examines the possibility of an anarchic hospitality and solidarity between material others and sensuous embodied life
