Ordering Women's Lives Julie Ann Smith,2016-12-05 This book takes an innovative approach to the study of the penitentials and nunnery rules and the ways in which these texts impinged upon the lives of female audiences The study emphasises the importance of the texts for the promotion of Christian values and of the expectations of churchmen in the construction of appropriate Christian behaviour for women in the early medieval West These texts constitute the only written works which would have had direct influence upon the lives of lay and religious women The work focuses upon the elements of the penitentials which provided female specific expectations and these fall largely into two categories of sexuality and pre Christian practices The nunnery rules seldom provided comprehensive sets of behavioural expectations Rather rules emphasised expectations relating to issues of enclosure work and abstinence which came to be perceived as the defining characteristics of religious women Women Medievalists and the Academy, Two Volumes Jane Chance,2018-05-22 Long overlooked in standard reference works pioneering women medievalists finally receive their due in Women Medievalists and the Academy This comprehensive edited volume brings to life a diverse collection of inspiring figures through memoirs biographical essays and interviews Covering many different nationalities and academic disciplines including literature philology history archaeology art history theology or religious studies and philosophy each essay delves into one woman s life intellectual contributions and efforts to succeed in a male dominated field Together these extraordinary personal histories constitute a new standard reference that speaks to a growing interest in women s roles in the development of scholarship

Monastic Women and Religious Orders in Late Medieval Bologna Sherri Franks Johnson,2014-04-10 Sherri Franks Johnson explores the roles of religious women in the changing ecclesiastical and civic structure of late medieval Bologna demonstrating how convents negotiated a place in their urban context and in the church at large During this period Bologna was the most important city in the Papal States after Rome Using archival records from nunneries in the city Johnson argues that communities of religious women varied in the extent to which they sought official recognition from the male authorities of religious orders While some nunneries felt that it was important to their religious life to gain recognition from monks and friars others were content to remain local and autonomous In a period often described as an era of decline and the marginalization of religious women Johnson shows instead that they saw themselves as active participants in their religious orders in the wider church and in their local communities
