McLoughlin, 2011-01-20 Kate McLoughlin's Authoring War is an ambitious and pioneering study of war writing across all literary genres from earliest times to the present day. Examining a range of cultures, she brings wide reading and close rhetorical analysis to illuminate how writers have met the challenge of representing violence, chaos and loss. War gives rise to problems of epistemology, scale, space, time, language and logic. She emphasises the importance of form to an understanding of war literature and establishes connections across periods and cultures from Homer to the War on Terror. Exciting new critical groupings arise in consequence as Byron's Don Juan is read alongside Heller's Catch 22 and English Civil War poetry alongside Second World War letters. Innovative in its approach and inventive in its encyclopedic range, Authoring War will be indispensable to any discussion of war representation.

William Shakespeare, 1900 Shakespeare's Bastard Simon Andrew Stirling, 2016-02-04 Sir William Davenant 1606-1668

Poet Laureate and Civil War hero is one of the most influential and neglected figures in the history of British theatre. He introduced opera, actresses, scenes and the proscenium arch to the English stage. Narrowly escaping execution for his Royalist activities during the Civil War, he revived theatrical performances in London right under Oliver Cromwell's nose. Nobody perhaps did more to secure Shakespeare's reputation or to preserve the memory of the Bard. Davenant was known to boast over a glass of wine that he wrote with the very spirit of Shakespeare and was happy to be thought of as Shakespeare's son. By recounting the story of his eventful life backwards through his many trials and triumphs, this biography culminates with a fresh examination of the vexed issue of Davenant's paternity. Was Sir William's mother the voluptuous and maddening Dark Lady of Shakespeare's Sonnets and was he Shakespeare's lovely boy?
