Does he have the right stuff to go to space
The Privatization of Space Exploration Lewis D. Solomon, 2017-09-08
Space was at the center of America's imagination in the 1960s
President John F. Kennedy's visionary statement captured the mood of the day We choose to go to the moon in this decade and do the other things not because they are easy but because they are hard
The Apollo mission's success in July 1969 made almost anything seem possible but the Cold War made space flight the province of governmental agencies in the United States
When the Apollo program ended in 1972 space lost its hold on the public interest as the great achievements wound down
Entrepreneurs are beginning to pick up the slack looking for safer more reliable and more cost effective ways of exploring space
Entrepreneurial activity may make create a renaissance in human spaceflight
The private sector can energize the quest for space exploration and shape the race for the final frontier
Space entrepreneurs and private sector firms are making significant innovations in space travel
They have plans for future tourism in space and safer shuttles
Solomon details current US and international laws dealing with space use settlement and exploration and offers policy recommendations to facilitate privatization
As private enterprise takes hold it threatens to change the space landscape forever
Individuals are designing spacecraft start-up companies are testing prototypes and reservations are being taken for suborbital space flights
With for-profit enterprises carving out a new realm it is entirely possible that space will one day be a sea of hotels and or a repository of resources for big business
It is important that regulations are in place for this eventuality These new developments have great importance huge implications and urgency for everyone

Feasibility Study and Future Projections of Suborbital Space Tourism at the Example of Virgin Galactic Matthias Otto,2008 The work Feasibility Study and Future Projections of Suborbital Space Tourism at the Example of Virgin Galactic deals with the topic space tourism especially with the so called suborbital space tourism a current trend of private businesses that offer commercial flights up to the edge of space This edge of space named Karman Line due to its founder Theodore von Karman is defined by the FAI Federation Aeronautique Internationale to be at an altitude of approximately 100 km The author conducts a detailed feasibility study about this phenomenon at the example of the Anglo American business Virgin Galactic and sets up future projections based on the results of this study After a general introduction into the topic history motives for going to space stages of space tourism etc the author addresses the focal points of the feasibility study In detail this includes an analysis of the Virgin Galactic approach and its most promising competitors Space Adventures Benson Space Company Space Access Incredible Adventures Rocketplane Limited Starchaser Industries and Blue Origin as well as an analysis of the several spaceships and its manufacturers Subsequently the regulatory framework is illustrated at the example of the FAA Federal Aviation Administration In the end results from market research projects are evaluated in order to explain the demand for suborbital flights The study comes to the conclusion that the industry is still in an early pioneer phase but nevertheless shows an enormous potential to grow
