Stylistic And Narrative Structures In The Middle English Romances:

Stylistic and Narrative Structures in the Middle English Romances Susan Wittig, 2014-10-01 This volume provides a generic description based on a formal analysis of narrative structures of the Middle English noncyclic verse romances. As a group, these poems have long resisted generic definition and are traditionally considered to be a conglomerate of unrelated tales held together in a historical matrix of similar themes and characters. As single narratives, they are thought of as random collections of events loosely structured in chronological succession. Susan Wittig, however, offers evidence that the romances are carefully ordered, although not always consciously so, according to a series of formulaic patterns and that their structures serve as vehicles for certain essential cultural patterns and are important to the preservation of some community-held beliefs. The analysis begins on a stylistic level and the same theoretical principles applied to the linguistic formulas of the poems also serve as a model for the study of narrative structures. The author finds that there are laws that govern the creation, selection, and arrangement of narrative materials in the romance genre and that act to restrict innovation and control the narrative form. The reasons for this strict control are to be found in the functional relationship of the genre to the culture that produced it. The deep structure of the romance is viewed as a problem-solving pattern that enables the community to mediate important contradictions within its social, economic, and mythic structures. Wittig speculates that these contradictions may lie in the social structures of kinship and marriage and that they have been restructured in the narratives in a practical myth: the concept of power gained through the marriage alliance and the reconciliation of the contradictory notions of marriage for power's sake and marriage for love's sake. This advanced, thorough, and completely original study will be valuable to medieval specialists, classicists, linguists, folklorists, and Biblical scholars working in oral formulaic narrative structure.

Convention and the Individual in Medieval English Romance Lucy Brookes, 2025-04 Offers a nuanced reading of character and subjectivity in medieval romance via an exploration of its conventions Medieval romances can be characterised by their formulaic motifs predictable plots and stock figures and character types This book offers a fresh perspective on these conventions arguing that authors used them and the expectations they generate as a form of shorthand to interiority Understanding romance conventions in this way reveals that romance characters complex and often contradictory inner lives are made available precisely through the genre s narrative structures shapes and norms Drawing upon recent work in the History of Emotions and Affect Theory the author explores character and subjectivity in a variety of English romance texts from 1100 to 1500 such as Amis and Amiloun Le Bone Florence of Rome The Squire of Low Degree Sir Orfeo Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Malory s Le Morte Darthur Through new readings of these texts the book demonstrates the contribution made by romance to the growing significance of the individual in fiction after the twelfth century by paying particular attention to the ways in which convention expectation and genre intersect with character formation and the representation of identity

Studies in Medieval English Romances Derek Brewer, 1988 Interest in the literary form of romance has greatly increased over the past few years and begins to equal that of tragedy Romance is seen as a potent model of life equal but opposite to tragedy The modern widespread realisation that art its most powerful is not necessarily a direct realistic imitation or mimesis of ordinary life together with the accompanying interest in fantasy folktale and science fiction have all opened out new vistas of literary experience

Language and Piety in Middle English Romance Roger Dalrymple, 2000 Analysis of pious formulae across a range of medieval romance illuminating their stylistic purpose

Counsel and Strategy in Middle English Romance Geraldine Barnes, 1993 Barnes contends that rule by counsel is central to the ethos of Middle English romance By examining the development of Middle English romance against its background of 13th and 14th century royal baronial conflict this book assumes a new historical perspective Friction between Plantagenet kings and dissident barons contributed to the development of the problem of counsel both as an actuality and as a topos in the literature of the period Rule by counsel an ideal which informs medieval English government at every level is the author argues central to the ethos of Middle English romance The procedural formula of counsel and strategy is tested against a number of romances Ywain and Gawain Havelok Gamelyn Athelston a selection of nine romances from the Auchinleck manuscript and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight By selecting these narratives Geraldine Barnes is able to approach the question of counsel from a number of different angles This is a book which will stimulate considerable interest among scholars of medieval literature GERALDINE BARNES is Senior Lecturer in English Language and Early English Literature at the University of Sydney

Middle English Romance and the Craft of Memory Jamie McKinstry, 2015 An examination of the depiction and function of memory in a variety of romances including Troilus and Criseyde and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight

From Medieval to Medievalism John Simons, 1992-10-13 The book surveys medieval literature from both a critical and an historical standpoint Medieval literature is increasingly seen as an area of intense specialism which is to be treated differently from other areas of English Studies The essays collected here try to overturn this perception in two ways Firstly there is a demonstration of the ways in which modern critical approaches and perspectives work with the medieval text Secondly the idea of the medieval is shown historically to be a discourse which has been given different symbolic values and served different social purposes
