Early Modern Women's Writing and Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz Stephanie Merrim, 1999 This book maps the field of seventeenth century women's writing in Spanish English and French and situates the work of Sor Juana more clearly within that field It holds up the multi layered proto feminist writings of Sor Juana as a meaningful lens through which to focus the literary production of her female contemporaries Merrim's book advances the integration of Hispanic women authors and women's issues into the panorama of early modern women's writing and opens up unexplored commonalities between Sor Juana and her sister writers Early modern women writers whose works are explored include Marie de Gournay Margaret Fell Fox Catalina de Erauso Maria de Zayas Ana Caro Mme de Lafayette Anne Bradstreet St Teresa and Margaret Lucas Cavendish Merrim's study provides a full bodied picture of the resources that the cultural and historical climates of the seventeenth century placed at the disposal of women writers the manners in which women writers instrumentalized them the building blocks and concerns of early modern women's writing and the continuities between early modern and modern women's writing Written in an engaging clear manner this innovative study will be of interest not only to Hispanists but also to scholars in early modern studies women's studies history and comparative literature

Women Writing Culture Ruth Behar, Deborah A. Gordon, 1995 Extrait de la couverture Here for the first time is a book that brings women's writings out of exile to rethink anthropology's purpose at the end of the century As a historical resource the collection undertakes fresh readings of the work of well known women anthropologists and also reclaims the writings of women of color for anthropology As a critical account it bravely interrogates the politics of authorship As a creative endeavor it embraces new Feminist voices of ethnography that challenge prevailing definitions of theory and experimental writing

French Women's Writing 1848-1994 Diana Holmes, 2000-01-12 A wide range of French women writers are surveyed including Sand Colette Beauvoir and Duras among the canonized and many marginalized or forgotten and contemporary names not yet widely known outside France These writers are seen within the political economic and cultural context of women's lives and how these have changed across a century and a half Underpinning the whole account is the relationship between gender and language between politics sexual and textual

Men and Women Writers of the 1930s Janet Montefiore, 2003-09-02 Men and Women Writers of the 1930s is a searching critique of the issues of memory and gender during this dynamic decade Montefiore asks two principle questions what part does memory play in the political literature of and about 1930s Britain And what were the roles of women both as writers and as signifying objects in constructing that literature Montefiore's topical analysis of 1930s mass unemployment fascist uprising and appeasement is shockingly relevant in society today Issues of class anti fascist historical novels post war memoirs of Auden generation writers and neglected women poets are discussed at length Writers include George Orwell Virginia Woolf W H Auden Storm Jameson Jean Rhys Rebecca West

Unbecoming Women Susan Fraiman, 1993 Unbecoming Women unpacks the ideological baggage of the Bildungsroman and turns to conduct books and novels of development by women for a new poetics of growing up In subtle readings of works by Frances Burney Jane Austen Charlotte Bronte and George Eliot Fraiman argues that a heroine's progress toward masterful selfhood is by no means assured Focusing on counternarratives in which girls do not enter the world so much as flounder on its doorstep Fraiman suggests that becoming a woman involves de formation disorientation and the loss of authority Written with grace and theoretical mastery Unbecoming Women emphasises the dialectical as well as subversive aspects of a genre long considered homogeneous The result is a compelling contribution to feminist genre criticism that charting female destiny in Georgian and Victorian texts also postmodernizes the novel of development

The Global and the Intimate Geraldine Pratt, Victoria Rosner, 2012 By placing the global and the intimate in near relation sixteen essays by prominent feminist scholars and authors forge a distinctively feminist approach to questions of transnational relations economic development and intercultural exchange This pairing enables personal modes of writing and engagement with globalization debates and forges a definition of justice keyed to the specificity of time place and feeling Writing from multiple disciplinary and geographical perspectives the contributors participate in a long standing feminist tradition of upending spatial hierarchies and making theory out of the practices of everyday life
