Don Keith

Submarines Of World War II:

Submarines of World War II John Ward, 2001 Submarine Commander Paul R. Schratz, The author shares his war experiences his role in the Japanese surrender and his participation in the setting of a world's record for longest submerged voyage

U.S. Submarines in World War II Larry Kimmett, Margaret Regis, 1996 A comprehensive illustrated history of the U S submarine campaign in World War II Includes animated CD highlighting famous submarine patrols

Final Patrol Don Keith, 2006-10-03 During World War II the U S Navy's submarine service suffered the highest casualty percentage of all the American armed forces losing one in five submariners But despite the odds these underwater warriors accounted for almost 60 percent of Japanese shipping losses and were a major factor in winning the war 16 U S submarines and one German U Boat that saw action during WWII are now open to the public Most have been restored and authentically equipped

Final Patrol takes a fascinating look at these subs and the personal stories of the brave sailors who lived fought and often died in them Now visitors can climb into these cramped steel cylinders peer through their torpedo tubes and imagine diving under the sea perhaps for the last time to stalk a fanatical enemy who threatened our nation's freedom

The Japanese Submarine Force and World War II Akihiko Yoshida, 2013-01-15 When first published in 1995 this book was hailed as an absolutely indispensable contribution to the history of the Pacific War Drawing heavily from Japanese sources and American wartime intercepts of secret Japanese radio messages a noted American naval historian and a Japanese mariner painstakingly recorded and evaluated a diverse array of material about Japan's submarines in World War II The study begins with the development of the first Japanese 103 ton Holland type submergible craft in 1905 and continues through the 1945 surrender of the largest submarine in the world at the time the 5300 ton I 400 class that carried three airplanes Submarine weapons equipment personnel and shore support systems are discussed first in the context of Japanese naval preparations for war and later during the war Both successes and missed opportunities are analyzed in operations ranging from the California coast through the Pacific and Indian Oceans to the coast of German occupied France Appendixes include lists of Japanese submarine losses and the biographies of key Japanese submarine officers Rare illustrations and specifically commissioned operational maps enhance the text

Wahoo Richard O'Kane, 2009-11-11 The career of the USS Wahoo in sinking Japanese ships in the farthest reaches of the Empire is legendary in submarine circles Christened three months after Pearl Harbor Wahoo was commanded by the astonishing Dudley W Mush Morton whose originality and daring new techniques led to results unprecedented in naval history among them successful down the throat barrage against an attacking Japanese destroyer voracious surface running gun attacks and the sinking of a four ship convoy in one day Wahoo took the war to Japan's front porch and Morton became known as the Navy's most aggressive and successful sea raider Now in a new quality paperback edition her full story is told by the person most qualified to tell it her executive officer Richard O Kane who went on to become the leading submarine captain of the Second World War Praise for Wahoo The accounts of the patrols are spine tingling both in triumph and tragedy It is a tale of great courage brilliant leadership and daring innovation in a new type of submarine warfare fought largely on the surface in waters closely controlled by the enemy Well written a gripping story for anybody with a love of the sea or adventure in submarine combat Naval War College Review This is an exceptional story of American men who rose to the occasion time and again under dangerous circumstance Abilene Reporter News A first hand and first rate narrative told by the former executive officer of this legendary WWII submarine which gives readers an intimate feel for life aboard the boats that helped beat the odds in the battles of the Pacific and put Japan on the defensive Sea Power Like Clear the Bridge Richard O Kane s bestselling account of the Tang s 33 confirmed sinkings Wahoo is a rousing authentic war adventure that could well become a classic of its type crack ling with the tensions boredom and occasional exhilaration of submarine life under the Pacific O Kane is a superb storyteller and his credentials are impeccable Springfield Sunday Republic

The Silent Service in World War II Edward Monroe-Jones, Michael Green, 2012-12-07 From the naval battle of Guadalcanal to rescuing George Bush Sr in the Pacific here are the stories of US submariners in WWII The Silent Service in World War II tells the story of America s intrepid submarine warriors in the words of the men who served and fought in the Pacific against Japan When Pearl Harbor was attacked in 1941 the enemy had already deployed naval forces but the United States was soon able to match them By 1943 new Gato class submarines were making a difference carrying the war not just to the Japanese Imperial Navy but to the vital merchant fleet that transported essential resources to the island country Starting with the American victory at Guadalcanal US submarine forces began to constrict the Japanese sea lanes Operating independently and in wolfpacks they attacked convoys operating beyond the range of American airpower making daring forays even into Japanese home waters Taking on Japanese warships as well as rescuing downed airmen including the grateful first President Bush US submarines made an enormous contribution to our war against Japan Aside from enemy action the sea itself could be an extremely hostile environment as many of these stories attest From early war patrols in obsolescent unreliable S boats to modern fleet submarines roving the Pacific the forty six stories in this anthology offer a full understanding of life as a US Navy submariner in combat

Submarines in World War II Robert A. Germinsky, 1994

The USS Puffer in World War II Craig R. McDonald, 2008-02-08 Submarines were responsible for about 55 percent of the tonnage of the Japanese fleets sunk during World War II The 22 percent casualty rate of U S submariners was the highest of the military services This volume traces the career of the submarine the USS Puffer from the laying of her keel and her commissioning on April 27 1943 until her departure for the scrap yard in late 1960 Compiled from interviews with former crew members including the author s father Donald B McDonald as well as other contemporary sources it follows the crew of the Puffer through nine war patrols Events recollected include the First War Patrol which resulted in a record setting 38 hour submergence because of enemy fire the dangerous transfer of torpedoes while surfaced in enemy waters and the wild bombardment of Japanese shore installations with the 5 inch deck gun There are numerous wartime photographs and appendices providing a list of awards earned by the crew and a summary of claimed successful attacks Brief biographies of the seven commissioned officers are also included Submarines of World War Two Erminio Bagnasco,2000 Over 2 500 submarines saw action during WWII and now a single book covers every type and class from midgets to U cruisers to experimental designs The mass of detail includes technical characteristics while hundreds of charts and photos give facts and figures on construction displacement dimensions speed range operational depth fuel load armament and complement Each class of submarine s performance and fate is chronicled as is the evolution of submarine warfare providing a rare view of how design improvement affected the war s outcome
