Cinema of Simulation: Hyperreal Hollywood in the Long 1990s Randy Laist, 2016-09-22 Hyperreality is an Alice in Wonderland dimension where copies have no originals simulation is more real than reality and living dreams undermine the barriers between imagination and objective experience The most prominent philosopher of the hyperreal Jean Baudrillard formulated his concept of hyperreality throughout the 1980s but it was not until the 1990s that the end of the Cold War along with the proliferation of new reality bending technologies made hyperreality seem to come true In the lost decade between the fall of the Berlin Wall and 9 11 the nature of reality itself became a source of uncertainty a psychic condition that has been recognizably recorded by that seismograph of American consciousness Hollywood cinema The auteur cinema of the 1970s aimed for gritty realism and the most prominent feature of Reagan era cinema was its fantastic unrealism Clinton era cinema however is characterized by a prevailing mood of hyperrealism communicated in various ways by such benchmark films as JFK Pulp Fiction and The Matrix The hyperreal cinema of the 1990s conceives of the movie screen as neither a window on a preexisting social reality realism nor as a wormhole into a fantastic dream dimension escapism but as an arena in which images and reality exchange masks blend into one another and challenge the philosophical premises which differentiate them from one another Cinema of Simulation Hyperreal Hollywood in the Long 1990s provides a guided tour through the anxieties and fantasies reciprocally social and cinematic which characterize the surreal territory of the hyperreal

Decolonization of the Europhone African Novel is a treatise on the problematics of language choice in Europhone African literature Vakunta's research is rooted in the notion that the postcolonial African fiction writer is at a crossroads of languages groping for linguistic re-orientation Using the prose of fiction of Patrice Nganang Ahmadou Kourouma Mercedes Fouda Nazi Boni and Gabriel K Fonkou as corpus he contends that postcolonial African fiction is an offshoot of a linguistic tinkering process that enables writers to tinker with the language of the ex-colonizer in a deliberate attempt to divest indigenous writing of its hegemonic vestiges Under Review Sid Stark, 2023-08-11 Doctor Rowena Halley hits rock bottom Then she ends up on a terrorist hit list August 2016 Rowena Halley PhD is nursing a busted knee and a busted heart Plus her career path is on a toilet trajectory and the divisive politics of a particularly fraught election cycle are threatening to bust up her family too Then Madison former student former drug addict and troublemaker extraordinaire comes bursting back into her life Rowena is afraid Madison will get her hauled in on drug and kidnapping charges But the reality is even more dangerous Madison has been digging into her family history She's unearthed a sordid story of Nazi collaboration in Eastern Europe It's not just in the past either Members of her family are carrying on the tradition now using sophisticated social media tools to spread their message and they want to bring Madison into the fold To make things even more fun Rowena's ex-fiancé Russian investigative journalist Dima Kuznetsov has riled up some very unpleasant mercenaries from the Caucasus If she's not careful Rowena could end up in the crosshairs of both groups All this is forcing Rowena to undertake a serious review of her life choices But even if she decides to change her life it may be too late to save it NB This book like all the books in the series contains some serious adult language You've been warned
